

Can you think of another way?

What might you try instead?

Where could we do that?

Tell me about your...

What can you tell me about...?

What does it remind you of?

What does this make you think of?

What are some different things you could try?

What would happen if...?

What do you think would happen if...?

How did you think of that?

What can you tell me about the things you have?

How are you going to do that?

Show me what you could do with it...

Is there anything else you could do/use?

These open-ended questions/statements can be written on sentence strips and place up high on the wall of the room or the list can be placed on a clipboard in an interest area as a quick reference for adults who are interacting with children.

Open-Ended Questions and Statements

Reprinted with permission from the Connections Project; Learning Communities for All Children, California Institute on Human Services, Sonoma State University